OBJECTIVE

With a solid background in web technologies, data structures, algorithms, and software development, I am a motivated and problem-solving student of computer engineering, enthusiastic about developing effective, scalable solutions and addressing problems. Interested in using my technical expertise, improving my abilities, and making a significant contribution to actual software development projects. Basically, I love to write code with listening to music.

PROJECTS

GitHub Insight:

- GitHub Insight allows users to fetch details of any GitHub profile using their ID — including primary language, contribution graphs, and public repo links. It also lets users bookmark friends or peers via GitHub Insight.
- Technology Stack - Html, CSS, JavaScript, React JS, Clerk, Chart.js

Tech Shop:

- Tech Shop is a basic e-commerce web application where users can sign up, log in, browse products, add items to a cart, and place orders. Each order is assigned a unique ID, and user and product data are stored for future access.
- Technology Stack - HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, JavaScript, .NET, Microsoft SQL Server
- Currently working on implementing the same project using Spring Boot, the MERN stack, and Django. This will take time, but progress is ongoing.
